MANSION PRIVACY

In keeping with the tradition of The Mansion, we take your security & privacy very seriously, with a strict no-tolerance policy of never sharing your personal information -- even your name -- with anyone before, during or after your event/hotel stay and/or retreat. Simply put, no one can reach you here unless they have a password or mobile information. No exceptions. What happens at The Mansion stays at The Mansion.

...I rely on them."*

MANSION PHILOSOPHY

Life is not about those things you have lost along the way, the spare change, pieces of paper with people's names and numbers, jewelry, scarves, umbrellas, coats, buttons and keys. It's about the very real friends you meet, just around the corner. And just as important, it's about letting go of everything you thought you knew. Because nothing stays the same, not words, images, memories, people or places. There is a reason things happen the way they do. And whatever you might think at the moment, there is a sequence for everything—and it is all worthwhile.

*— H.H. Leonardo Spero, Founder

think how many people you have made happy."*
